Erin LaFace

Biography

A big supporter in progressive teaching styles, Erin LaFace believes, the modern teacher should have a curriculum that is more tailored to the individual students needs, allowing for a more relaxed and effective style of learning. Prior to starting this lesson plan packet, Erin has been a full time student as a Liberal Studies Elementary Education major at Humboldt State University. Pending her graduation, she has experienced several different styles of teaching through her fieldwork and has produced Lesson Plans for The Arts, Literature, Technology, Economics, and so on. Erin's varied background in tutoring, camp counseling, and fieldwork provided the perfect foundation for building this Lesson Plan packet.
